Blind Voters

ON WEDNESDAY, 30TH NOVEMBER, 1932—

CAPTAIN FRASER asked the Home Secretary if he was aware that many blind persons object to the procedure under which they have to disclose to the presiding officer and the agents of the candidates the name or names of the candidate or candidates for whom they are voting at elections; and if he would view with sympathy a change in the law which would give blind persons, as an alternative, the opportunity of entrusting the marking of their ballot papers to a wife or friend who may accompany them to the polling booth?

Mr. OLIVER STANLEY (Parliamentary Under-Secretary, Home Office): If a private Member's Bill to effect the proposed change were generally acceptable to all political parties, the Government would give it sympathetic consideration.

Following this, Captain Fraser is getting in touch with the political parties, and is hopeful of securing unanimous agreement. Meantime he has given notice to introduce a Bill under the following title: "Representation of the People (Blind Persons) Bill," to amend the law relating to the recording of votes by blind persons at Parliamentary and Local Government Elections; and for purposes connected therewith.

Even a very modest change in the law like this one is a most complicated business involving all sorts of enquiries and negotiations, but the matter is now making good progress and we are sure all St. Dunstaners will wish the Bill good luck in its journey to the Statute Book.

News about St. Dunstaners

J. Sheehy, of Dover, sold poppies and crosses for the Field of Remembrance in front of the local War Memorial on Armistice Day, and collected, in company with two other disabled ex-Service men, £15.

H. S. Eames, of Twyford, placed a wreath on the Memorial Cross at Hurst, near Reading, on Armistice Day.

E. Lupton, of Kirkham Preston, gave a display of diving and swimming at a gala at Cocker Street, Blackpool, in aid of St. Dunstan's. A photograph of Lupton being congratulated by Professor J. Nuttall, ex-Champion swimmer of the world, and officials of the Blackpool A.S.C., appeared in the West Lancashire Evening Gazette.

A. C. Evans, of Newport, Mon., has been re-elected to the Committee of the local branch of the British Legion.

B. W. Birley, of Burnley, has passed his mat test and is now doing well with local orders.

B. B. Bowering, of Weston-super-Mare, has just held for one week, at his home, an exhibition of his work. A photograph of him at work on a basket appeared in the Bristol Evening World and Evening Times, which described the exhibition.

Manchester Service for Sir Arthur Pearson

A Service in Memory of Sir Arthur Pearson will be held in St. Ann's Church, St. Ann's Square, Manchester, on Sunday, 18th December, at 3.30.

Mr. Kessell

WE have been asked by the Chairman to say that he has received a number of letters from St. Dunstaners from different parts of the country in which the suggestion has been made that the officers and men as a whole should make some presentation to Mr. Ernest Kessell, as a token of their personal regard for him, and their appreciation of his long service to St. Dunstan's. The Chairman feels that an overwhelming majority if not all St. Dunstaners would wish to take part in such a presentation, and makes the suggestion that subscriptions should be sent in without delay. The unanimity with which such a matter is dealt with adds very greatly to its value, and it is therefore suggested that the amount of the subscription should be one shilling, so that all who want to can take part.

Mr. W. G. Askew has kindly offered to act as Honorary Treasurer and Secretary of this little fund, and subscriptions should therefore be addressed to him at Headquarters.

In order to enable those St. Dunstaners who live in the Dominions to take part, the closing date for receipt of donations has been fixed as 31st January, 1933.

The following sentences occur in letters which Captain Fraser has received:—"To many St. Dunstaners Mr. Kessell was much more a personal friend than an official . . . please may I be permitted to suggest that steps should be taken to secure for so valued a friend of St. Dunstan's as Mr. Kessell, some memento in appreciation." "Many of us have known Mr. Kessell personally, and I think all of us realize and appreciate the most valuable work which he has done for St. Dunstan's for so many years, and I think we should all like to join in making some little present as a mark of our appreciation and esteem."

Mr. Kessell's Thanks

I WANT to thank all who have sent messages to me following upon the announcement of my retirement from St. Dunstan's in the last issue of the "Review."

Officers and men, members of the staff of all grades, ex-workers, and ex-V.A.D.'s, and business people with whom I have had dealings, have all been very kind in their expressions of goodwill.

I value all that has been said. Some of the remarks make the parting harder, but there comes a time in the life of everyone when it is necessary to take the step I have taken. I leave overwhelmingly rich in good wishes, and the friendships which I have formed in the eighteen years' existence of St. Dunstan's.

When the Directors of the London Missionary Society said to David Livingstone: "Is it not time for you to go on the shelf?" he replied: "Yes, but let the shelf be Africa." I do not expect to go to Africa, but I hope my shelf will enable me still to do a lot of good work for my friends of St. Dunstan's.

ERNEST KESSELL.

Armistice Day

THE Annual Parade organized by the British Legion on 11th November, was attended by a party of St. Dunstaners, headed by Captain Fraser. During the march from Wellington Barracks, preceded by the Coldstream Guards Band, many old comrades and familiar faces were noticed. The setting at the Cenotaph, as usual, was most impressive. Captain Fraser placed the St. Dunstan's wreath between those of His Majesty the King, the Royal Princes, and the Cabinet Ministers. On returning to Barracks the members of the party were the guests of the Warrant and Non-Commissioned Officers of the Coldstream Guards in their Mess for a short time, where many acquaintances were renewed.

ROYAL ALBERT HALL

A large representative party through the kindness of the British Legion were again enabled to be present at this most wonderful gathering.

Appreciation of Our Chairman

THE Editor has received the following letter from Captain William Appleby, the blinded soldier and St. Dunstaner who is a member of the National Executive Council of the British Legion, and represents them on St. Dunstan's Council:—

DEAR SIR,

I was present at a gathering where a very fine compliment was paid to your Chairman (Captain Ian Fraser, M.P.), which gave me as much pleasure to hear as I hope it will give you to know of.

The gathering was the occasion of the Annual Dinner of the Old Contemptibles in Newcastle.

A Northern M.P., in the course of his address, said the following:

"We have in the House of Commons a blind ex-Service man, Ian Fraser, who, by his ability and enthusiasm for the cause of ex-Service men, has constituted himself our leader, and is, in consequence, a powerful force within the House on their behalf."

The value of this compliment, quite unsolicited, spontaneous and unexpected, is the greater, in my mind, because of the fact that Captain Fraser has neither domestic nor political associations with Newcastle, nor could he, under the constitution of the Old Contemptibles, be a member of such organization.

I was personally so delighted that I should be glad, if you so think fit, for you to publish this letter in our St. Dunstan's magazine, in order that my blinded comrades may know how a representative authority from the House of Commons values our Chairman's activities on behalf of all the ex-Service community.

Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM APPLEBY.

Brighton Notes

MY DEAR BOYS,

Tons of good wishes and love to you all.
A Merry Christmas and very Happy New Year. God bless you.

Your affectionate friend,
ADELINE THELLUSSON,
Commandant Matron.

Brighton.

Christmas 1932.

Armistice at Brighton

THE Dome at Brighton must have been the scene of many impressive ceremonies, but none can have been more moving than the Memorial Service held by the British Legion on 6th November. Among the 3,000 people who were present our boys had a prominent place reserved for them in the front. Among many public notabilities present were the Mayor of Brighton, Canon T. J. James, M.C., M.A. (who conducted the service), and the Rev. A. D. Gilbertson (Chaplain in the Royal Navy), who gave the address. The National Anthem closed the service, which will long be remembered by those who were present.

A strong representative gathering was in the big lounge on Armistice Day for the short and simple service which was led by Matron, after which the wireless was switched on in order to enable us to take part in the service at Whitehall, and to observe the Silence with the rest of the country. After singing, with those at the Cenotaph, "God Save the King," a party of about one hundred formed up outside the Annexe, headed by Matron, and, escorted by a posse of police, kindly supplied by the Chief Constable, marched to the War Memorial, where T. Shepherd and S. Dyson placed our tribute to those of our comrades who never returned.

On returning to the Annexe the company sat down to dinner, during which Sir Cooper Rawson, M.P. arrived. In the evening, Matron, together with a party of men, attended a service at St. George's Church. Another party went to the British Legion Rally at the Hove Town Hall, where Mr. Cager, D.C.M., had charge of the community singing. "OBSERVER."

A Happy Evening

From The Sussex Daily News, Nov. 19th :—

The almost boyish cheerfulness of the men of St. Dunstan's is so much in evidence that it has almost become a by-word. It was a pleasure to share once more the hearty spirit of these ex-warriors, as was done at their twelfth annual dinner and dance organized by the employees of the Southdown Motor Services, Ltd., and of Messrs. Tilling, Ltd., which was held at the Aquarium Restaurant, Brighton.

There was a large company of the "boys" and their nurses, and Mr. A. E. Cannon, Director of the Southdown Motor Services, Ltd., presided. Also present were the Mayor of Hove, Councillor Victor R. Hudson, J.P., and Mrs. Hudson, Alderman T. J. Braybon, J.P., and Mrs. Braybon, the Deputy-Mayor and Deputy-Mayoress of Brighton, Councillor Captain A. B. Wales, M.C., and Mrs. Wales, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kessell, C.B.E., Miss Thellusson, O.B.E., Commandant St. Dunstan's Annexe, Brighton, Mr. L. G. Hopkinson, Secretary of Southdown Motor Services, Ltd., and Mrs. Hopkinson, and Mr. A. D. Mackenzie (Managing Director).

The thanks of the men of St. Dunstan's are due to those who make these pleasant occasions possible and especially to Mr. Mark Richard and his committee, Messrs. R. G. Porte (Chairman), J. Short, W. Clark, F. C. Mortby and L. Benstead.

"In Memory"

MARK LOUGHLIN
(South African Pioneer Battalion)

It is with deep regret that we record the death of M. Loughlin, of Cape Town.

This St. Dunstaner, who settled in South Africa after his service in the South African War in 1902, and who was blinded as a result of his service in the East African Campaign during the Great War, was admitted to St. Dunstan's only a year and a half ago. He was, however, not fit enough to take up training of any kind and had been in indifferent health for some time. He contracted double pneumonia and died in hospital on 16th October. One of his blinded comrades, C. W. S. van Blerk, and Mrs. Bates, represented St. Dunstan's at the funeral, which took place at Plumstead, Cape Town, on the 18th October.

Loughlin leaves a widow and four children, to whom we extend our sincere sympathy.

SAMUEL LEVINSON
(Transport and Remounts)

By a sad coincidence we also regret to have to announce the passing of another South African St. Dunstaner, S. Levinson, of Johannesburg, which occurred on the 27th September last.

Levinson came to St. Dunstan's only one and a half years ago but his indifferent health, due to illness contracted during his War service in East Africa, made him unfit for training. He became totally blind nearly three years ago.

We extend our deep sympathy to his wife and family.

PRIVATE CHARLES SHORT
(Labour Corps)

We deeply regret to announce the death of C. Short, of East Water, Bideford.

Owing to an accident which occurred on Salisbury Plain whilst carrying out his duties at a Prisoners of War Camp, Short's eyesight began to fail and he eventually became blind. He came to St. Dunstan's in 1925 and was trained as a boot repairer. Unfortunately his health, which for some time had not been very good, now became worse and he was quite unable to continue his work.

In spite of increasing ill-health, Short lingered on until September of this year, when he became seriously ill and passed away on the 14th September.

The funeral took place a few days later and St. Dunstan's was represented by W. J. Gilbert, of Barnstaple, and O. Cole, of Appledore. Among the many wreaths was one from Captain Fraser and his comrades of St. Dunstan's.

Short leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss, to whom we offer our deep sympathy.

PRIVATE JOHN SMITH
(Royal Army Veterinary Corps)

By the death on 17th October of J. Smith, of Norwich, at the advanced age of 80 years and five months, St. Dunstan's has lost the oldest of its comrades.

Smith, who had five sons on active service, enlisted in May, 1915. He was then 63 years of age and, although he had not served previously, he felt the call, and being of fine physique he gave his age as 45 and was accepted for service in the Royal Army Veterinary Corps.

He had only served several months when he received injuries from the bursting of a shell and was in consequence discharged in 1917. As a result of these injuries, he eventually became totally blind and then came under the care of St. Dunstan's. He did not, however, undergo any kind of training with us as he considered himself too old to take up a new occupation.

During the last few years Smith became very frail in health, and early this year was admitted to hospital where he died on the 17th October.

The funeral took place on the 22nd October and was attended by Smith's sons and other relatives; St. Dunstan's was represented by J. Burley and W. J. Hare, both of Norwich. Among the many wreaths was one from Captain Fraser and his comrades at St. Dunstan's.

Our sympathy goes out to Smith's wife, who is at present in the hospital where her husband died, and to his sons and daughters.

Letters to the Editor

WAR MEDALS AND REUNIONS

To the Editor:

DEAR SIR,—Re Jerry's last addition to the "Review," he states he is, and still intends to remain, a loyal St. Dunstan. Well, I should like to inform him that before he says that in his defence he wants to apologize in next month's magazine for asking and suggesting that the finest badge in the world should be worn on a red patch in the seat of the trousers, where I suggest Jerry's brains lay.

He also states that all the boys at Headquarters when he was there complimented him on the subject, but I don't think so, as no St. Dunstan with any sense would allow our badge to be so grossly insulted by any man who is ashamed to wear his medals (if any). The suggestion in the first instance was wearing war medals at reunions, a lovely idea, and well meant by one who is, I presume, an old soldier like myself. I am an Old Contemptible, and if Jerry wants my date of enlistment, it is 11th July, 1903, in the Regulars.

Thanking you again for your space in the "Review," and strongly advising Jerry to be choked off, and let the matter drop before some other boys take the matter in hand.—Believe me to be, Yours sincerely,

W. A. ROBINSON.

Hull.

To the Editor:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to the correspondence regarding the remarks of our comrade, J. Jerome: If St. Dunstaners would look on the funny side of Jerry's letter, they would get a good laugh, instead of feeling hurt. I myself laughed the whole day after having the letter read to me, and I feel positive, no matter what our comrades' feelings towards the medals and their intrinsic value, there is no St. Dunstan who does not prize and cherish the memory of our dear Chief, who has gone to the Great Beyond, and who, I feel, still watches over us.

In regard to wearing War Medals, we are in a land of the free. I think it is better that those who want to wear them may do so. Compulsion was only for those who would not serve, and therefore it would be much better to keep all contemptuous and personal remarks unsaid. We want to pull together, instead of trying to degrade one another.—Believe me, Yours faithfully,

J. BALLANTYNE.

Telephonists' Reunion Dinner

The Telephonists' and Shorthand Typists' Annual Dinner and Reunion took place at Headquarters on Friday, 25th November. Captain Ian Fraser presided, and proposed a toast to the guests, coupled with the name of Sir Neville Pearson, Bt. All St. Dunstaners he felt sure would thank Sir Neville for taking on the responsible duties of Honorary Treasurer of St. Dunstan's. (Applause.)

Sir Neville Pearson showed in his reply that he had a deep sympathy and understanding of St. Dunstaners, and an appreciation of their courage in overcoming their difficulties. He congratulated the business men on the splendid example they had set, and on the record of work they had done.

A letter from Mr. Kessell, expressing his regret at his inability to attend, was read, and the Chairman expressed the general feeling of the meeting that they heartily reciprocated his goodwill. (Applause.)

After-Care Reunions

GLOUCESTER

A VERY successful Reunion Meeting was held at Gloucester on the 6th instant. The attendance was much larger than usual, which we think must have been due to the meeting being held in the new hall.

F. C. Harris, of Charlton Kings, proposed a vote of thanks to and confidence in St. Dunstan's. He also expressed his pleasure at the appointment of Sir Neville Pearson as Honorary Treasurer of St. Dunstan's, and his regret at the retirement of Mr. Kessell. This was seconded by A. Bundy, of Gloucester.

BRISTOL

MR. OTTAWAY'S FIRST REUNION

Mr. Ottaway took charge of his first After-Care Reunion at Bristol, on Saturday, 26th November. There was a cheery gathering, and the usual tea and games were much enjoyed. Messrs. Fry's Band very kindly played during the afternoon.

Captain Fraser, who presided, said it was

ANNUAL SWIMMING GALA

THE St. Dunstan's Gala was held on 9th November, at St. Marylebone Baths. We are indebted to Messrs. D. Mitchell, Whur and Charlie Waite, for so generously subscribing for the prizes for all events. These gentlemen and Mr. Ellis, the Bath Superintendent, acted as judges, etc., and some keen and enthusiastic racing was given by the boys.

In the one-length T.B. handicap, Billy Birchall, with a tremendous spurt in the final, just beat W. Robinson and M. Burran. In the S.S. two-lengths handicap Drummer Downs won an exciting final from C. Thompson and A. Peckham.

PLUNGING HANDICAP

Jock Macfarlane from scratch won with a very good effort of 37 feet. Billy Lacey was second, and A. Peckham third.

Mr. D. Mitchell presented the prizes. W. Scott, on behalf of the boys, very ably thanked the prize-givers, Mr. Ellis for his great kindness and personal attention throughout the year, and Billy Jones, who for many years has been our swimming instructor.

SIX-MILE HANDICAP AND THREE-MILE SCRATCH WALKS

For the start of the walking season we were favoured with a glorious afternoon. The events were six-mile (handicap), and a three-mile for those who had never won a first prize.

Colonel Eric Ball came along to act as starter, and before doing so said some very cheery words to all the assembled competitors and escorts in his own inimitable way. The six-mile event was started first to ease congestion on the road. In the T.B. section at one mile H. Boorman led from H. Kerr. In always regretful to lose old friends, and there would be a general feeling at After-Care Reunions that Mr. Swain's transfer to the Appeals Department was a matter of regret. He thought, however, it was in the best interests of St. Dunstan's to try and find an existing member of the staff who could take charge of the Appeals Department. This would avoid bringing in someone who knew nothing about the place, and would avoid an additional salary. (Hear, hear.)

They were singularly fortunate, he thought, in having Mr. Ottaway to take over the Reunions, for he knew a very large number of St. Dunstaners, as they had passed through his hands in the workshops. Captain Fraser felt sure they would give Mr. Ottaway a warm welcome, and would help him in every way to carry out his new duties. (Applause.)

Mr. Ottaway said that he had been a Member of the Welfare Committee for many years, and had therefore been in the closest touch with the methods of arranging assistance and advice which had been carried out under Mr. Swain. He understood the difficulties of the men, and had the greatest admiration for them and for their wives. (Applause.) Mr. Ottaway paid a tribute to the splendid work Mr. Swain had done, and said he would do his best to carry on in the true spirit of St. Dunstan's. (Applause.)

A vote of thanks to Captain Fraser, and of confidence in St. Dunstan's was proposed by A. B. Hill, who added that he felt sure all the boys would give Mr. Ottaway their full support. (Applause.)

The gathering gave a very warm welcome to Miss Ayre and were delighted that her health was sufficiently improved for her to be with them. They hoped that she would soon be quite fit again.

Ice Skating

The London Ice Club, Westminster, generously offers facilities to St. Dunstan's men for ice-skating at the Club.

St. Dunstaners wishing to take advantage of the offer, however, must in the first instance apply to Corporal-Major W. Tovell, at Headquarters. This is important.

the S.S. section, Archie Brown was leading from Gover and Ashton. Archie eventually finished first and broke his own course record by more than one minute.

In the T.B. Section of the Novices' Race, W. Robinson went to the head of affairs and stayed there. In the S.S. Section, J. Triggs won in the very good time of 29 minutes. Several of the novices will be able with training to do very well in some of the longer distances during the season. After tea Miss Hamar Greenwood presented the prizes in her own charming manner.
